SUMMARY

I'm currently dedicated to advancing my skills in web development and have a basic grasp of Java programming. Alongside this, I possess a talent for graphic design, specializing in crafting captivating posters, logos, and designs using tools like Canva. Although I'm at a foundational level in both programming and web development, I'm enthusiastic about further learning to merge my passion for programming and design into a fulfilling career.

PROJECTS

A Basic Landing Page

The 'Amigos' landing page, crafted using HTML and CSS, embodies the theme of friendship and superpowers. With vibrant colours, playful typography, and possibly illustrations, it aims to captivate visitors and convey the idea of friendship as a potent force of camaraderie and adventure.

A Registration Form

I finished the 'Learn HTML Forms by Building a Registration Form' project on freecodecamp. Using HTML and CSS, I built a registration form, refining my skills in creating user-friendly forms and applying CSS styling techniques. This project showcases my ability to develop functional and visually appealing web interfaces.

A Poster
